Vol. 4

Friday, April 9, 1954

Lowell McNeely who recently moved to Calgary is back in town working here again. He is staying with his brother and family Mr. and Mrs. Alden McNeely.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bridge entertained three couples Saturday evening when Snooker, Rook, visiting and lunch were enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Innes were saddened last week by the sudden death of his sister's husband Harold Trokstad of Lethbridge. Mr. Trokstad, who passed away within minutes of a heart attack, was 52 years of age.

Mrs. Innes spent several days in Lethbridge last week with her sister-in-law, later bringing home their young son Gus to stay with them awhile.

The Jim Bridges have staying with them Mr. and Mrs. Ping Tanners baby Janet while they are at Conference.

Mrs. Lavon Bullock was hostess to the Amity Club when they met on Friday for their regular get-together.

Mill Rate Set At 55 Mills

At a recent meeting of the Town Council the budget for the Town was presented and a mill rate of 55 mills was struck, an increase of two mills.

The mill rate was divided as follows: School - 40 mills; Hospital - 4 mills; Sewer Debenture - 3 mills; General - 8 mills. The business rate remains at 41 mills. The School requisition was for $64,298 and the Hospitals was for $6,500. The total assessed value of the Town is $1,638,417.

The usual discount were authorized on the payment of taxes.

Glenda Bullock celebrated her 8th birthday last week when twenty friends met to enjoy an afternoon of games and birthday cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Howie Klippert were Calgary visitors last week where Howie and his team from the Lethbridge District won second at the Calgary Power Bonspiel. They also were able to bring home the Trophy but as yet they don't even know what the prizes are.

Guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kindt, were the Leo Hancock of Lethbridge.

Mrs. Kindt's sister and husband Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Harris of Magrath also visited briefly.

Richard Allen was Master of Ceremonies Saturday evening when the Junior M Men and Gleaners from the Stake met for their annual Election Party. The Candidate from each Ward was introduced by way of a Skit and at the conclusion of the last scene, the names were put in a hat. The names of Bert Fairbanks and Geraldine Harker were drawn to act as Presidents for the coming year.

Before the dancing to records commenced the Stake Board served the large group of young people hamburgers and punch. Dancing, which was under the direction of Larry Dahl, was enjoyed the remainder of the evening.

Guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bowden were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Shields of Diamond City and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shields of Warner to make plans for the Shield reunion to be held this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Derald Miller were hosts to the Third Ward Mia Maids and Explorers recently when Alan Shaw showed his pictures taken while in New Zealand on his mission. A tasty lunch concluded the interesting evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bowden have as their guest the past month Mrs. Lucy Moore of Bankstown, Australia. She is now visiting in Glenwood before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Perks are missing their young daughter Marion who is visiting in Stirling at the home of her uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Alan Hydechuk for a week or so.

The Third Ward M Men and Gleaners were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heggie Sunday evening at which time Jim Heninger gave a very interesting talk proving some religious beliefs from a scientific angle.

Mrs. Joy Heninger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Piegras, is a hospital patient in Lethbridge after undergoing a very serious operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Allan are enjoying a visit from their daughter Mrs. Hazel Brunton of New Westminster and their granddaughter Dreena Jean. They plan to be here for a month or six weeks although her husband John had to return home after a brief stop here. Mr. Brunton's brother Dave and nephew Rulon accompanied them on this trip.

Mrs. Irene Miller entertained at a party for Bobby on his third birthday recently when his little friends had a gay time.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Hamilton motored to Calgary over the week-end; bringing back with them Roxie's mother Mrs. Quist who has been there since Christmas.

RCAF Band Warmly Received

On Monday the R. C. A. F. Band played a return engagement here at the Opera House with the local Air Cadets again being the sponsoring body. Under the very able direction of F. O. Corcoran the band performed to a crowd that was greatly increased in size from last year but not yet large enough for such a stellar attraction.

After the official opening of the concert with "O Canada" the band struck up with "March Militaire Francois" which was followed by Beethoven's "Egmont Overture." Strauss lovers were then treated to "Stories of Vienna Forest" and in the spirit of Lent the band played Pietro A. Yon's "Jesu Bambino." Georges Bizet's contribution to the program was "Open Thy Heart." Three march selections were next played, "The British Grenadiers," "Entry of the Boyards," and the "Stand By March."

F. O. Corcoran apologized to the many latecomers for following service tradition and starting his program on time. Many people missed a large portion of this fine evening's entertainment by not arriving on time.

A medley of Rogers and Hart songs was played before Sgt. Miller, Jackson and Whitley, teamed up to take the spotlight for Harry James' "Trumpet Blues."

A strange looking instrument, the post horn, was brought forth to be featured in the next offering entitled "Tally Ho." For many it was their first look at this traditional horn. The lilting melody of LeRoy Anderson's "The Girl I Left Behind Me" was followed by Sgt. Wamsely's vocal solo "Stranger in Paradise." The Laughing Trombone and "Temptation" were the selections played just before the grand march of them all—Susa's "Stars and Stripes Forever."

The "R. C. A. F. March Past" was to be the concluding number on this very fine program but F. O. Corcoran responded to requests and also played "O Canada," for the benefit of the many late-comers.

After "God Save the Queen" the band was taken to the Legion Hall where refreshments were served while the floor was being cleared for dancing. An orchestra, made up of band members supplied the music and merriment for the dance.

It was really a fine program and it mark Raymond down for another visit is the hope of many that the band will next year.

Barbara Nalder, who is working in Calgary, has taken off a few days to attend Conference and the Missionary Reunion in Salt Lake.

Donny Heninger and Bobby Graham have returned from Olds where they have been going to school.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Woolley are the proud parents of a daughter, Susan Gay, born on March 27th.

The First Ward Mutual and the Bish opric met at the home of Jan Heninger last week in honor of the retiring and new members of the MIA. Ruth Ackroyd was in charge of the games which were played during the gay evening after which a lovely lunch was served.

Mrs. Laura Hirsche returned this week after attending Conference in Stlt Lake. She went down with her brother and wife from Stirling.

Farrel Meeks received word early this week to report to the Mission School next month in Salt Lake preparatory to leaving for a 2 year mission in Samoa. He will sail from San Francisco on June 12th. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Meeks.

Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Mendenhall and LaDon were among those attending conference in Salt Lake, after which they motored to Arizona where they are attending a Johnson Reunion. Mrs. Mendenhall has been looking forward to this meeting with her ten sisters and other relatives for some time.

Friends here will be interested to learn that Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Mendenhall are the happy parents of a son, born on March 30th.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira McBride were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Bridge in Magrath on Sunday to celebrate their grandchild's birthday.

Wilford Meldrum and the Kuehms have visiting them the Veri Meldrum's young son Bradford while Rowena is in the hospital in Cardston.

President and Mrs. Walker have returned from Salt Lake where they were among the Conference visitors.

Mrs. Joe Kirkham and Sally are visiting in Blairmore this week with Mr. and Mrs. Gary Kirkham.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Turner entertained friends at a dinner party on Friday night with the remainder of the evening spent in playing Rook. Howard Rasmussen won High Score honors while Rojeanna Bingham won Low Score prize. Guests included Milo Vance, Howard Rasmussen, Dan Holiday, Athol Cooper, Rex Meeks, Alma Sommerfeldt, Freelan Dahl, Gerald Gibb Orson Bingham and their wives.

Mrs. Ruth Peterson of Stirling was a guest at the home of her sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Fred Piegras this week.

Mrs. Ethel Smith entertained recently at a surprise party for her daughter Mrs. Gladys Wilbeck. A very pleasant evening of visiting and handwork was enjoyed by Mesdames Helen Sabey, Marie Matkin, Ada Orgill, Vi Rowland, Eleanor Perrett, Lou Witbeck, Barbara Douglas, Mabel Veen, Marie Garun, Georgia Heggie, Lyle McLean and Hazel McArthur, after which a delightful lunch was served.

The sister of Mrs. R. D. Strong, Mrs. Sadie Rankin, passed away recently at the local hospital during her visit in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Mirza Pack and Sharlene and Winona Graham also motored to Olds last week to attend the "Little Royal" at the Agricultural School.

The "RAYMOND" license plates are selling very well so anyone desiring these plates should make a special point of getting theirs before the supply runs out. Only a limited number are available so get yours now.

Jane McMullen entertained members of the Birthday Club, their husbands and othe friends Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Barker Selman at a Steak and Potato Chip Fry. A hilarious evening was spent by Howard Hicken, Bill Mehew, Vivian Preston, Jan Heninger, the Derald Millers Gerry Melchins, Don Steeds, Jim Bridges Ross Mendenhalls, Arledge Hills, Doral Stones, Barker Selmans and Paul Fairbanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Turner enjoyed a visit from his parents and brother from Calgary over the week-end.

New Facilities Added At Legion Hall

The Legion Memorial Hall here is taking on a new look - in the downstairs games room that is.

To the dart board and ping pong table, that heretofore have played an important part in the recreational scheme of things at the Legion, have been added a Bowla-Curl table and a pool table. The executive and members of the Legion wish to express heartfelt thanks to Howard Melnating this pool table.

The Recreation Room here now has taken on the look of a big-city hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry West and family of Blairmore are spending a few weeks in town visiting her mother Mrs. Gladys Liddle and other friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Harvey have a niece, Delores Cox, visiting them from Rocky Mountain House.

Robert Heggie Appointed To Cemetery Board

Bob Heggie has been appointed to the Cemetery Board, taking the place of the late Mrs. Manilla Meldrum, who worked very faithfully on the Board for about twenty years. The Board now has as members, Della Woolf, Sup erintendent; J. D. Hall, Edith Woolley and Bob, as well as two members from Welling, as yet not appointed.

A Work Day has been scheduled for sometime this week and all possible help is requested to carry on the fine work of beautifying our Cemetery.

M. D. of Sugar City Just A Memory

The final chapter in the history of Sugar City Municipal District as such was written on Wednesday when the Municipal Council met to complete final business.

The majority of those who worked with Sugar City are now employed by the Warner County with Dan Holiday as assistant Secretary. Merlin Peterson, George Oslanski, Joe Flexhaug, Jim Olsen, Bob Sudo and Harry Flexhaug are going over, while Edith Woolley has accepted a position with the Cardston District.

Wayne, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Evan Jensen, celebrated his fifth birthday on March 29th with a number of small friends.

Kate Eros who has been working at the Bank of Montreal, is leaving on the 15th for the East where she plans to live.

It's Character That Counts

By Robert G. Dunlop

When the late J. P. Morgan was asked what he considered the best bank collateral, he replied, "Character."

"The most important thing for a young man to do," John D. Rockefeller once said, "is to establish a credit, a reputation, character."

"Not education, but character," observed Spencer, "is man's greatest safeguard."

Character, it seems to me, is fundamental to success in school, in business or professional life. Recognizing it in men who have been successful in various fields, I rate confidence on the part of the employer higher than competence on the part of the employee. The man who is competent but fails to inspire confidence finds himself subject to limitations and controls placed by his superiors. Business prefers a man whose character is beyond question. I often ask the question: How much confidence can I place in this man? That is a basic consideration. From there I go on to build competence.

The impressionable years of boyhood are the most important in character building. The boy who is following the Scout ideal in performing a good deed each day has found an entirely new attitude toward life. There is no wide gulf between boyhood and manhood. The same basic qualities that make a boy a good Scout spell success in later life.

That's why I am active in Scouting today. I continue to draw ideas and inspiration from the boys who have stepped into the ranks we left. You'll never grow stodgy in the presence of Young America. Then, too, I am conscious of the benefits I have derived from Scouting and the debt I owe it. I am proud of the high position Scouting holds in the eyes of the general public.

The emphasis of the Boy Scout movement in the lives of those individuals who have been associated with it is clearly demonstrated by the record of our criminal courts. Of all those who appear before the bars of justice, the percentage of boys who have had Boy Scout training is exceedingly small.

Scouting has helped me, first of all, as an invaluable supplement to the work of the school and church. It afforded wider horizons in which to practice the basic teachings of those institutions. I have always felt that a boy who arrives at the threshold of manhood without ever having actively participated in the Boy Scout movement has missed a face for experience he may never recapture.

Scouting is Young America on the move. It is America's answer to the youth movements of dictators which ended in abysmal failure. Boy Scouts march, too, but they march as free men. In the cadence of their step can be felt the very heartbeat of America.

"Elephants Never Forget"

This famous misconception is the basis for many interesting stories—but there is no real evidence to support it. Experts have said that there seems to be nothing unusual about an elephant's memory.

"Hunger is a Symptom of Tapeworm"

It is a widespread misconception that continual hunger indicates the presence of a tapeworm. A tapeworm really eats very little and causes no symptoms at all.

Grandmother's Apple Custard

Here's a really old-fashioned dish that some Recorder readers may remember from their grandma's cooking. It may be served either hot or cold, with cream or without. To 3 cups stewed apples, add 2 cups sugar, and 1/2 teaspoon each of nutmeg and cinnamon. Now for the rich custard: Pour 1 quart boiling milk over 4 well-beaten eggs, stirring constantly. Season with a little lemon juice. Allow to cool. Mix custard with apple mixture. Pour into buttered baking dish at 375 F. for 20 minutes.

In the office of the manager of a large department store a woman customer was complaining.

"I can't understand," she said, "why your shopwalker had to be so unreasonable. I asked him a simple question, but before he answered he wanted to know where I came from. Why must he know that?"

"What question did you ask him?" the manager inquired.

"Just a plain, simple question. I simply said, 'Is this the second turn to the right?'"

"Canning Destroys Food Values"

A widespread fallacy. As shown by many tests, canned foods retain all their values—including vitamins—to a higher degree than do fresh foods cooked in the average home.

114 McFarlane Block — Lethbridge, Alberta

A vicar out for a walk saw an old gardener digging up a neglected garden.
"It's wonderful what the hand of man can do with a piece of earth—with the aid of Providence, Wilks." Gardener: "You should have seen this place, sir, when Providence 'ad it all to itself."

Lightning Lighter

"How close did it come to you?"
asked the farmer, driving up to the tree where his hired man had taken shelter from an electrical storm.
"Well," stammered the man, still agitated, "I don't know, but my pipe wasn't lit before."

To One Who Has Been Long in City Pent

To one who has been long in city
pent,
"Tis very sweet to look into the fair
And open face of heaven,—to breathe
a prayer
Full in the smile of the blue firmament.

Who is more happy, when, with heart's content,
Fatigued he sinks into some pleasant lair
Of wavy grass, and reads a debonaire
And gentle tale of love and languish-ment?
Returning home at evening, with one ear Catching the notes of Philomel,— an eye

Watching the sailing cloudlet's bright career,
He mourns that day so soon has glided
by:

E'en like the passage of an angel's tear
That falls through the clear ether silently.

John Keats

"Your husband says that when he's angry he always counts ten before he speaks."

"Yes, and I wish he'd stop it. Since he's had dyspepsia, home seems nothing but a class in arithmetic."

A veteran Canadian journalist who has covered important events throughout the world, J. B. McGeachy brings his considerable knowledge of international affairs into use in such programs as "Weekend Review" and "C-BC News Roundup", both heard on the CBC Trans-Canada network. Making his home in Toronto where he is associate editor of the Globe and Mail, Mr. McGeachy also acts as moderator on the quiz show, "Now I Ask You," on the same network.

A teacher asked his class of small boys what it was that a horse was made to wear when it went about its work. The word "harness" was not forthcoming. At last he said: "Is there any boy here whose father attends to horses?"

"Yes, sir," said one small boy.
"Then tell the class what it is your father puts on a horse every morning."
"Half a dollar, sir."

Fashion Notes

Children's clothes shown in the latest London collections include a wide range of styles with many novelty materials. Most of the models for little girls include fashion points originally used for their mother's dresses but cleverly adapted for the young age groups. London's 8th Fashion Fortnight is open from June 9-23 when many overseas buyers are expected to attend to see the 1954-55 autumn and winter fashions designed by some of Britain's leading manufacturers.

The average Canadian of 70 years of age has spent 20 years of that time asleep. In the clockwatching fraternity the sleep time undoubtedly would be higher.

A recent world survey shows that Canadians are the world's leading telephone users, averaging 388 calls per person per year.

THE FACE THAT LAUNCHES A THOUSAND KIN

Some girls can have faces
That launch ships and sailors
And land all objectives
From minks to Bob Taylors.
But my face gets nothing
But comments befittable,
Like "Doesn't she look
Just like Cousin Mehitabel!"
I look like Aunt Min
(Likely chained in the attic)
Or Grandmother Glynn
(Doubtless slightly erratic)
Or third cousin Matty,
As bright as brass beds,
Who is probably home
Using both of her heads.
Others are told
Their resemblance to Hedy,
To Marilyn, Rita,
Or Ava or Betty.
That I never can preen with:
I look like the relatives
Nobody's seen with!

It Pleases Him

It's over twenty years since I Have learned to drive a car,
Each day I drive and park the thing
Without a scratch or mar.
But you should see the antics of
The one who is my spouse
When I back into our garage
Connected with the house.
He sticks his fingers in his ears
And closes both his eyes,
Or cups his hands around his face
Pretending that he cries, Meantime I've safely backed it in Without a dent or whack,
The doors are still on hinges
And the paint is all intact.

Being Her Friend
Being her friend, I do not care, not I,
How gods or men may wrong me,
beat me down;
Her word's sufficient star to travel
by,

I count her quiet praise sufficient crown.

Being her friend, I do not covet gold,
Save for a royal gift to give her pleasure;

To sit with her, and have her hand to hold,

Is wealth, I think, surpassing minuted treasure.

Being her friend, I only covet art,
A white pure flame to search me as I trace

It crooked letters from a throbbing heart

The hymn to beauty written on her face,

John Masfield

UK Welfare State has reached a point where some people find it more profitable to refuse work than accept it.
AP reports from London, March 26, case of Mr. Edward C. Bloomfield, who says he can't afford to take a job. Best one he has been offered pays $16.80 a week. But without working, he gets unemployment pay of $16.66 a week, which family allowance payments bring up to $22.26 a week.

"A Rusty, Dented Can Means Spoiled Food"

Incorrect! The canning process destroys the spoilage organisms, and the hermetic seal protects the contents from contamination. As long as the hermetic seal is unbroken, dents or rust on the container have no effect on the contents.

Snow Star
I walked upon a lonely street
With steps the tired know,
When soft upon my sleeve there fell
A pointed flake of snow,
In solitary loveliness
The perfect crystal lay—
A star that knew a moment's form,
Then blurred and slipped away.
But beauty thronged the lonely place;
My feet were heaven-shod,
Because I held, just for a breath,
A little star from God!
